Herculiner Retailers Australia is owned and operated by Buffalo Safaris Australia Pty Ltd

We formed this business was in April 2009 to market and distribute Herculiner products to consumers Australia wide and it came about because of the difficulty we had in locating a quality DIY tub liner for our off-road vehicles. In the course of our business in the NT we haul all manner of equipment and goods from 44 Gal drums of fuel, camp supplies, generators, wood – you name it. As you can imagine our tubs and trailers cop a beating. We wanted a reasonably priced tub protector that we could apply ourselves, when and where it suited us, to be sure it was done right. Equally important was a liner that we could periodically repair and refurbish for little cost. We did not, and do not, believe there is any coating that is indestructible. All we are looking for is an easily cleaned, long lasting and hard wearing protector for our vehicles.

After extensive research we found that Herculiner was the best product in the world that fitted these criteria. However none was available in Australia and the only way we could obtain a supply was to order a minimum of 100 kits. Herculiner Retailers Australia has been created to provide an ongoing supply of this great product to others who don't want to shell out big money to a second party simply to apply a similar coating. Herculiner has to be imported from the USA and the lead time for shipments is several months so there could be delays and stock out before subsequent shipments arrive. If you want it - buy now to avoid disappointment.

Herculiner Retailers Australia is located in Beechworth, Victoria and you can email us with any enquiries at info@herculinersales.com.au
